A CHANCE FOR PHILANTHROPIC REBELS.—It is said that in the neighborhood of Fort Saunders, where the rebel dead were buried after the sanguinary conflict, which resulted in raising the siege of Knoxville, the hogs are occasionally disinterring It occurs to us that if some of the wealthy rebels of son of the Secretary of State of Tennessee. Knoxville would give this matter the attention they ought, that the remains of these poor fellows, who fell a victim to Southern aristocracy, might be rescued from so horrible a fate.

When a rebel was executed here as a apy, those could be found, who would most willingly "strew flowers over his grave," and surely these men who bravely fought the battles of the slave lords of the South-who met death like heroes, though in a wicked cause are entitled to as much considera-

When published, this ecture will be a most valuable addition to the Church literature of the M. E. Church.

HUN-KI-DO-RI.-The "Fat Contributor" has been among us, and his lecture at the First Presbyterian Church on Friday night of last week, excited such times and places: paroxysms of laughter among our citizens, that they have scarcely yet recovered. It is said the physicians will hold a meeting, and enter their solemn protest against the lectures of the "Fat Contributor," as no one can be sick after listening to his perfectly, irresistable, laughter-provoking effusions. He has established a high reputation as a serio-com ic lecturer, among the Knoxvillians. As an evidence of the irresistability of his wit, we will just say that we saw Captain Bearden and Judge Jones about noon, the day after the lecture, when they were still laughing in a manner truly refreshing to

Hon. H. INCOME TAX .- Col. B. P. Stacy, Assistant Revenue Assessor for this county, has for several days past been very inquisitive among our citizens as to heir income for the year 1866.
